ADMITTING FAULT

“Lord, have mercy.” We use this phrase in the liturgy and we use this phrase when we face a trial or an injustice. It is a plea for the gratuitous love of God to save us from evil and the bondage of our sins. It is a plea for divine help in the face of powers stronger than our own. The mercy for which we ask flows from the love of God which is stronger than a mother’s love for her children and greater than the bridegroom’s love for his beloved. So strong and great is God’s love for us that He extends the greatest gift of His mercy: “For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life”(Jn 3:16). As St. Paul puts it in the reading today from the Letter to the Ephesians, “God, who is rich in mercy, because of the great love he had for us, even when we were dead in our transgressions, brought us to life with Christ”(2:4-5).

However, there is an essential condition that must be met for us to receive God’s mercy: “To receive his mercy, we must admit our faults”(CCC 1847). The honest and thorough examination of our conscience under the guidance of the Holy Spirit helps us to know how we have offended God and/or our neighbor through what we have done and what we have failed to do. Admitting our faults is not always easy. It is far easier to give some justification or rationalization that provides the desired excuse so that admitting sin and guilt can be avoided. Doing so, however, deprives us of the life of God within our soul. King David, whom you will remember as having committing adultery, tried to hide his guilt. He reflects upon his experience in Psalm 32: “As long as I kept silent, my bones wasted away; I groaned all the day. For night and day your hand was heavy upon me; my strength withered as in dry summer heat. Then I declared my sin to you; my guilt I did not hide. I said, ‘I confess my faults to the Lord,’ and you took away the guilt of my sin”(3-5).

The love of God for us is best experienced when we confess our sins and faults, ask for forgiveness, and receive the restoration of grace because of His great mercy. The graces God provides during the Lenten season help us to know our sins, to confess them with true sorrow and humility, and to find a more fulfilling way of living our life in Christ. The Sacrament of Reconciliation – available six days a week here at St. Gertrude – is the ordinary way we are reconciled with God and the Church. The Catechism teaches us that “the spiritual effects of this sacrament are: reconciliation with God by which the penitent recovers grace; reconciliation with the Church; remission of the eternal punishment incurred by mortal sins; remission, at least in part, of temporal punishments resulting from sin; peace and serenity of conscience, and spiritual consolation; [and] an increase of spiritual strength for the Christian battle”(1496). All of these effects are worth the self-admission of sin. Remember, “God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him”(Jn 3:17). There is nothing to fear.

Please note that no additional times are scheduled for Sacramental Confession during the Lenten season, except during the St. Joseph Triduum (March 17-19). We will maintain the regular Confession schedule through Wednesday of Holy Week. No Confessions during the Sacred Triduum and Easter Sunday. The regular schedule will resume on Easter Monday.

Let us love one another and pray for each other,

Fr. George, O.P.

USCCB STATEMENT ON JOHNSON & JOHNSON VACCINE

The USCCB's Committee on Doctrine and Committee on Pro-Life Activities have issued a statement on the recently-approved Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccine. The bottom line is that, while it is morally acceptable to receive any of the vaccines, "if one can choose among equally safe and effective COVID-19 vaccines, the vaccine with the least connection to abortion-derived cell lines should be chosen. Therefore, if one has the ability to choose a vaccine, Pfizer or Moderna's vaccines should be chosen over Johnson & Johnson's." ASK A PRIEST –
THE MINOR EXORCISMS OF THE BAPTISMAL LITURGY

BY FR. JOHN MARK SOLITARIO, O.P.

Q: In the Gospels we hear about Jesus casting out demons and then asking his disciples to do the same. Do the Church’s ministers still do this?

A: This is a good question; it sounds like you’d like to know whether Christ’s priests are asked to perform exorcisms today or whether there’s less need of these rites today. First, I’d like to answer “yes” and explain that exorcisms are conducted in the Church much more frequently than you might think. In fact, every Baptism includes one. St. Paul taught us that Christians are in a struggle against not only “flesh and blood” but “the wiles of the devil” (See Ephesians 6:11-12). The language may sound old but is no less accurate: on this side of eternity, the baptized are members of the “Church Militant.” Good angels are our friends and wish for us to inherit God’s Kingdom. Wicked angels are our enemies and desire our damnation. Second, I’d like to explain why those who commit themselves to be “soldiers of Christ” and resolve not to “rendezvous” with the enemy actually have very little to fear. This is part of the reason why the Church prefers not to make “a big deal” over exorcisms. Christ has won the victory. It’s best to fight on the winning side and leave the Devil to his own self-done defeat!

Whether in simple or solemn form, exorcisms are performed by authorized ministers frequently. The Catechism teaches that an exorcism is an occasion “when the Church asks publicly and authoritatively in the name of Jesus Christ that a person or object be protected from the power of the Evil One and drawn from his dominion” (CCC 1673). Most Catholics have witnessed a simple exorcism, maybe without realizing it, in the Baptismal Liturgy. The minister of Baptism prays over a child to be baptized: Almighty ever-living God, who sent your Son into the world to drive out from us the power of Satan, the spirit of evil, and bring the human race, rescued from darkness, into the marvelous Kingdom of your light: we humbly beseech you to free this child from Original Sin, to make him (or her) the temple of your glory, and to grant that your Holy Spirit may dwell in him (or her)...

If we were to be left in the state of Original Sin, the condition we inherited as members of a sin-marked race, we would likely not have the strength to resist Satan and his cohorts. Yet God did not want to leave us without His powerful help, and so Jesus scattered the darkness of sin and robbed it of any lasting power through His saving Cross. The Sacrament of Baptism applies Jesus’ saving sacrifice to the life of every child or adult who approaches the consecrated waters. The baptized are not under Satan’s shackles anymore but are made grace-filled “temples of God’s glory.” Simple-form or “minor exorcisms” of infants and adult catechumens help prepare the way for them to embrace this amazing destiny.

Exorcisms, whether simple form or solemn form (reserved to a specially-appointed exorcist in cases of authentic diabolic influence), enable people to experience the freedom and security that belongs to the children of God. While human beings may be prone to the attacks of fallen spirits who surpass us in intelligence and power from the perspective of nature, all who arm themselves with the grace of Christ through Baptism and other Sacraments are equipped to “quench the flaming darts of the evil one” (Ephesians 6:16). Anecdotally speaking, priest-exorcists are the first to remind the Christian faithful that those who dedicate themselves to Jesus Christ through fidelity to the sacramental life of the Church and friendship with the good angels have nothing to fear. In such a case, the devil is the one who is more afraid.

“Ask a priest” will be a regular format for our Holy Teaching section in the coming months. Submit your own question to bulletin@stgertrude.org for one of our Dominican priests to answer in the bulletin!
