PUBLIC WORSHIP AT ST. GERTRUDE CHURCH IN TIME OF PANDEMIC

Updated November 1, 2020

The Archbishop dispenses the faithful from the obligation of attending Sunday Mass. Please do not come if you feel sick. Those who are vulnerable may consider coming to a less crowded weekday Mass.

HEALTH AND SAFETY MEASURES

- Keep a prudent distance inside the church. Ushers will help ensure safe seating on Sundays.
- We ask that the faithful wear cloth masks for the sake of the common good. People with breathing difficulties and young children should not wear masks.
- Only friars, sisters, novices, lay ministers and a limited number of staff members will be in the sanctuary and sacristy.
- Volunteers will help wipe down high-touch surfaces between Sunday Masses.

HOLY COMMUNION

- You are not obliged to receive Holy Communion at every Mass you attend. Consider making a spiritual communion, or receiving at a weekday Mass.
- The faithful who choose to receive Holy Communion will come up to the altar rail, where one or two priests will distribute the sacred host. Keep space in line, and only remove your mask at the rail.
- You may receive in the hand or on the tongue, kneeling or standing. Note: the rail is a high-contact surface.

REFLECTING ON THE PARISH SCHOOL

Today is the beginning of Catholic Schools Week, which is an opportunity to reflect upon and celebrate the presence and offerings of a parish school.

This is a good reflection for me since I did not attend a parochial school; but, as pastor of a parish with a school, I have a great interest in our school and its operations.

A parish school fits within the overall mission of a parish to bring persons to an encounter with Jesus and support their friendship with Him as a disciple. Obviously, there is much for children to learn in the entire realm of the arts and sciences and a Catholic school does well to educate in these disciplines. There is an integrity and coherence in this education because a parish school can communicate to students (and parents) that all truth in every discipline is a reflection of the truth and creative order of God. One might ask what science has to do with God. A Catholic school can communicate that the laws of nature and the intricate functions of the world around us did not evolve out of nothing, but reflect an intelligent being who orders creation and makes humanity stewards of it. The study of history offers much information, but also teaches that God's Providence is revealed in the unfolding of human events.

A parish school provides a unique context of human formation in virtue. Catholic faith provides a clear teaching regarding the dignity of the human person and the excellence to which every person can achieve. Not only are there natural virtues, but there are also the supernatural virtues that form and strengthen the goodness of a person. As St. Thomas Aquinas teaches, grace builds upon nature and perfects it. Certainly, it is a lifelong process, but a Catholic school education supports the workings of God's grace in each student. Intelligence is formed along with personality and character. Interacting with fellow students are occasions of practicing and perfecting the virtues.

Particularly, a parish school supports parents in their handing on of Catholic faith, doctrine, morality, and service. The school brings parents together with faculty and staff to provide the children with opportunities to encounter Jesus and experience the truths of faith in action. The school day begins and ends with prayer. Classes make devotional visits to the Blessed Sacrament in the school chapel or take a Rosary walk on parish grounds. Each week, our students gather for the celebration of the Eucharist with their schoolmates. Regularly, our students encounter the loving mercy of Jesus in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. The Christmas pageant helps students to know and embrace the gift of the Incarnation.

In short, a parish school affirms the gift of every student as a child of God and strives to promote and support the full development of a child physically, emotionally, and spiritually. This reflection reminds me of the encouragement of St. Paul found in his letter to the Philippians: "Whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things" (4:8). We are truly blessed to have a school as a vital expression of our mission as a parish. It is a blessing to see our children learning and growing in many ways. And how beautiful it is to hear and see our children praying to Jesus with childlike love and sincerity. As we begin the observance of Catholic Schools Week, I invite everyone in the parish to give thanks to God for our parish school, and the administration, faculty and staff who see to its daily operations.

Let us love one another and pray for each other,

Fr. George, O.P.

FROM THE DIARY OF ST. MARIA FAUSTINA KOWALSKA

I feel certain that my mission will not come to an end upon my death, but will begin. O doubting souls, I will draw aside for you the veils of heaven to convince you of God's goodness, so that you will no longer continue to wound with your distrust the sweetest Heart of Jesus. God is Love and Mercy. (Diary, #281)

ASK A PRIEST - WHY ST. THOMAS AQUINAS?

BY FR. JOHN MARK SOLITARIO, O.P.

Q: Why is St. Thomas Aquinas the patron saint of students?

A: Aquinas was one of the most brilliant teachers (and students) of Sacred Theology that the Church ever knew. This is why he earned the title, Doctor Communis or “Common Doctor,” given his ability to absorb and synthesize the philosophical and theological knowledge of the masters who preceded him and issue his own summaries and conclusions.

How can Aquinas help us as we seek to understand the truth about God and man? Here are some very basic Thomistic insights that this thirteenth century theologian, master-teacher, and holy friar can help teach us as we strive for a holy, happy, and well-informed Catholic life:

1. Everything is for a reason.

Chance is the name given to things without an apparent cause. But God sees from an entirely different vantage point: simple and comprehensive knowledge of everything. Created by God, everything bears the mark of His design and remains in existence only because He wills it to be. The thousand things which we experience in a day are made possible not only because God knows them, but because he cares about us human beings deeply, evil and sin notwithstanding: this is the mystery of His Providence.

2. It matters what you think.

I am borrowing this phrase.<sup>1</sup> Because God’s creation is marked by intelligibility, we human beings can arrive at definite knowledge about the Creator and His works. The development of human knowledge – science in its broad and more traditional sense – reflects the type of creatures that we are meant to be. Made in God’s image and likeness, we desire to know things as deeply and broadly as possible. An accurate grasp of how things really are, i.e. our knowledge of divine, human, animal, and non-animate natures, deeply impacts how we decide to live our lives and whether or not we will choose what leads to our happiness.

3. God could have saved us in many ways, but He chose one way.

This refers to Aquinas’ teaching on Jesus. Just as St. Thomas acknowledges that God could have created the world in any number of ways, so he acknowledges that salvation could have come to us in whatever way God decided. But He chose one way in particular:

He sent His Son to be our Savior, humbling Himself and taking upon Himself the weight of our sins, even dying a shameful death. The only sufficient reason: love. Everything Jesus said and did reveals God’s undying love for each of us. Each episode of His life carried salvific value. Therefore, we should pay attention to and love God’s Word-made-Flesh, Jesus Christ.

4. Pray for the wisdom and grace you need.

St. Thomas’ moral teaching implies that some things are only achieved with God’s help. This is the reason for God’s grace, that supernatural gift that lifts our minds and hearts to see and desire what would otherwise be beyond human reach. The gifts of the Holy Spirit in particular – wisdom, understanding, knowledge, counsel, fortitude, piety, and fear of the Lord – are necessary virtues for all who wish to “be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect” (Mt 5:48) and who wish to see faith, hope, and love come to fruition.

5. Life is good. Heaven is better.

Aquinas and his teaching can be a big help to anyone seeking to scratch below the surface of life. With some introduction, his teaching is surprisingly clear and refreshingly in-tune with common experience. He also puts one in touch with a great number of the most significant inquiries and disputes ever asked by human beings. More than this, Aquinas’ teaching echoes the biblical affirmation of the fundamental goodness of all that exists. Every creature comes from and points toward a deep, divine wisdom and happiness revealed in the fullness of time in and through Christ. Ultimately, Aquinas wants his students to hope in eternal life and the beatific vision of God. Friendship with God in heaven is the sine qua non of all his teaching.
